"BOUND TO TAKE THE HIGHEST RANK IN ITS CLASS"

AUNT JANE OF KENTUCKY

By ELIZA CALVERT HALL

AUNT JANE OF KENTUCKY

This book started off with two editions before the day of publication. Enthusiastic readers have pronounced it "positively delicious," "simply delightful from beginning to end," "a masterpiece of native humor," "strikes the note of sympathy," "appeals to every human heart," etc.

The New York Times says:

"Where so many have made caricatures of old-time country folk, Eliza Calvert Hall has caught at once the real charm, the real spirit, the real people, and the real joy of living which was theirs."

THE TURN of the BALANCE

BRAND WHITLOCK'S New Novel

Received With Great Enthusiasm

"It is all true, ghastly true. I suppose such a book will never be popular, but it will certainly give true information of what it describes to those serious enough to wish to know."

Yours very truly,

Theo. A. Bingham, Police Commissioner of New York.

"I know of nothing with which to compare 'The Turn of the Balance' except Tolstoy's 'Resurrection,' and it is a greater book than 'Resurrection.'"

—Upton Sinclair.

"I consider 'The Turn of the Balance' one of the best books from a police point of view that I have ever read."

—M. A. Delany, Chief of Police, Denver, Colo.

"'The Turn of the Balance' is the most direct, comprehensive and unanswerable indictment of modern conditions I have ever found between two covers."—Charles Edward Russell.

"Without doubt the greatest novel of a decade."—Alfred Henry Lewis.

Hilma

THE NEW NOVEL

By

WILLIAM TILLINGHAST ELDRIDGE

North

"The story is of the 'Pick up, never put down till the end' kind: warranted to displace the most obstinate case of worry or ennui."—Chicago Daily News.

South

"A story full of real life, real adventure, real romance—the sort of a story that once begun, anyone with a love of life and love, must read to the end."—Galveston News.

East

"Hilma is full of life and love and deeds of daring."—Brooklyn Citizen.

West

"The author's style is dramatic and sparkling—yea, to the depths of brilliancy. The story makes the blood dance all the faster and the setting is picturesque."—The Sunday Oregonian.

LANGFORD

Louise loved to climb to the summit of one of the barren hills.

OF THE THREE BARS

When Paul Langford started in to put an end to cattle-rustling in his part of South Dakota, he and the county attorney had to make the fight alone—the thieves owned nearly everyone else. But there was strength and determination back of it, and there was an abiding faith in the power of the Three Bars ranch to make things happen. Two high-spirited girls play a brave part in this exciting tale of a fighter of the right sort, and make it a delightful love story as well.

The little posse started out on its journey.

Nearly five years ago we were invited to become associated with those Bible publishers who are governed by an agreement to maintain high prices. We refused to do so. The wisdom of our refusal, and its importance to booksellers, becomes apparent when at this time we are able to say that our Bible business is entirely satisfactory, and Bibles of equal quality to ours cannot be purchased elsewhere at prices less than from 25 to 50 per cent. more than we ask for them. JUST THINK THIS OVER.

Any of our books can be purchased of us direct or of your jobber if more convenient to you. Don't pay Dictionary Trust or Bible Combination prices for Dictionaries or Bibles. Buy our books and make more money.

NOTES IN SEASON.

DUFFIELD & COMPANY will publish on the 17th inst. Charles Egbert Craddock's new novel, "The Windfall." "Sir Elyot of the Woods," by Emma Brooke, will be published by Duffield & Company and Heinemann in London simultaneously on the 19th inst. Frank A. Vanderlip's "Business and Education" will appear on the 27th inst.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have just ready a book of the woods, fields and marshes, entitled "Outdoors," by Ernest McGaffey, thirty-two papers by this well-known writer on out-of-door subjects, taking up open air sports and pleasures of all kinds and seasons; a new edition, revised and corrected throughout, of Salomon Reinach's "Apollo," an illustrated manual of the history of art that has been translated into every civilized tongue; also, the second and final volume of Thomas M. Lindsay's work on "The Reformation in the Lands Beyond Germany."

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. will publish on the 27th inst. a new story by Lucy Meacham Thruston, entitled "Jenifer," the central character of which is a young man who, beginning as a poor boy, dependent upon himself, discovers kaolin, buys the land from one who is unconscious of its value, and selfishly makes his own fortune. The awakening of his conscience and the acquisition of deeper conviction of duty and human responsibility give the chief motive of the book. Mrs. Thruston is best known as the author of "A Girl of Virginia" and "Mistress Brent." She is a Baltimore author.

A. C. McCLURG & Co. announce for this month the second section of "Venice, its individual growth from the earliest beginnings to the fall of the Republic," by Pompeo G. Molmenti, translated from the Italian by H. F. Brown. This section deals with "Venice in the golden age"—the first section covering the Middle Ages. The coming last two volumes, to be ready in the fall, will be on "The Decadence of Venice." They will also publish this month the last two volumes of the Literature of Libraries series, edited by John Cotton Dana and Henry W. Kent—Justus Lipsius's "De Bibliothecis Syntagma" and Gabriel Naudé's "News from France, or, a Description of the Library of Cardinal Mazurini;" also, "Sojourning, Shopping, and Studying in Paris," by Miss E. Otis Williams, a book particularly for the "feminine pilgrim" in Paris, with a map and practical instructions as to life in the French capital.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have brought out this week "The Birth of the Nation," by Mrs. Roger A. Pryor, which is doubly welcome in view of the Jamestown tercentennial. It is the story of the founding of the first English colony in America—a story full of romance and exciting incident. They have also just ready "Christianity and the Social Crisis," by Professor Walter Rauschenbusch, of the Rochester Theological Seminary, who discusses the social aspects of Christianity, first as shown in the origins and early history of the church, and then as it is at the present time; "Vancouver's Discovery of Puget Sound," by Professor Edmond S. Meany, of the University of Washington, in which Vancouver's own account of his explorations, as contained in his journal, is supplemented by a large quantity of hitherto inaccessible information bearing on the early history of the Pacific Coast: "An American Girl in India," by Shelland Bradley; a new edition of "A Text-book of Plant Diseases Caused by Cryptogamic Parasites," by George Massee; two volumes in the New Classical Library, edited by Dr. Emil Reich—"Books iv.-vi. of Herodotus," translated by G. Woodruffe Harris, and six of "Plutarch's Lives," translated by W. R. Frazer; "Dante," by Marie Louise Egerton Castle, in Bell's Miniature Series of Poets.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The prices of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded in this list by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The prices of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. The prices of net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

Experiences of a party of friends organized by an American, Mr. W. N. McMillan, to explore little known parts of Central Africa, where game is plentiful and the climate far more healthful than is supposed. Large part of the descriptions of scenery and life on the Nile and Sobat rivers are extracts from the journal of Mrs. McMillan who, with her maid, accompanied the party throughout much of the journey. Many hundreds of miles of unexplored country were mapped out by the engineer of the party; valuable studies of natives were made, and "the best sport that the world contains" enjoyed. Illustrations are reproductions of photographs.

A young girl went from the Connecticut Valley in the early '70's to teach school in a little town in the South. Her family were greatly concerned about her, having heard much of the hard feeling towards Northerners still harbored by the Southern people. The story tells of a kind reception, good, faithful friends for "the stranger," and incidentally gives many details of those days of "reconstruction" when such grave mistakes were made.

Mr. Chapman is the author of many standard books on birds. He has been, since 1887, the associate curator of ornithology in the American Museum of Natural History. "The warblers are our most beautiful, most abundant, and least known birds," his preface tells us. "The small size of warblers, their activity, the nature of their haunts, their rapid journeys, marked seasonal changes in plumage and the general resemblance in the song of many species, all tend to render recognition in life unusually difficult. This book has, therefore, been prepared to meet the demand for a fully illustrated work which shall simplify the problem of the field identification of warblers."

Author is Fellow and Lecturer of Trinity College, Cambridge. The essay is divided into two parts, considering the historian both as "historicus" and "mythiscus." The work does not aim to add to the stock of historical information, but to consider Thucydides in a new light, as a historian with a strongly marked artistic tendency, which manifested itself most strongly in his treatment of mythology, and in his departure from the original plan of a simple historical account—"a text-book of politics and strategy." The contents is a summary of the whole essay.

Under the above title the author of "Honour bright," etc., has written another story of an English school for boys. The career of Alec Urmdon at Crandel Hall is strongly influenced by the story of his life, although there is no lack of real boy's school joys and sorrows. Alec is heir to an estate and title, and comes by accident to an uncle's house, who for fourteen years has been enjoying both, thinking his brother and nephew are dead. Alec is ignorant of his inheritance, and his uncle yields to the temptation of keeping him in ignorance of his good fortune, but adopts him and sends him to school. The story shows how Alec comes to his own.

The doings of the pupils of an English school for boys is the leading theme. The story begins with the disappearance of a man just arrived in England, either through violence or kidnapping. He and his son, a lad of fourteen, have been living in Texas, when he returns to his native town on an apparently serious errand, which he does not disclose to his boy. This boy, though so young, is a brave, manly fellow, who devotes his life to discovering his father alive or dead. He remains in the town from where his father disappeared, entering as pupil in a fine school, at the same time pursuing his investigations. He turns out to be heir to a will and an estate.

An easy going father had brought his children to want by his recklessness. They lived outside of Chicago. One girl was adopted by a rich aunt. Dora, the "winged Victory" to her poet lover, was all heart, which she explained by the fact that she had no head like the wonderful Victory. The story tells an interesting tale of co-education in a Western college. Dora's pure unselfishness leads her first to marry the wrong man to save him pain.

The story of a double elopement from the same country house on the same night. Both couples meet unexpectedly at the railroad station, and as both have reasons for doubting the motives of the other, an amusing series of misunderstandings results. While the heroes are having a fierce encounter in the station the train rolls away, bearing two forsaken and sorely puzzled heroines. The mad pursuit of their lovers in a special engine, the stalled train, the absurd way in which the elopers are mixed up, make a clever story. Text enclosed in a decorative border.

Dealing with that obscure period of Greek history after the nation's decline under the Roman conquest. With the sack of Constantinople by the Franks and Venetians, in 1204, as a prologue, the work accounts for the whole of the western occupation of the Byzantine empire. Chapters on the conquest of Morea (the ancient Peloponnesus), the baronies of Achaia (the mountainous nome whose capital is now Patras), and such men as Villehardouin and Charles of Anjou are included. The second volume is largely biographical, the history of the district being best depicted in the lives of those who made it. The "Chronicles of Morea" are of comparatively small compass, various versions being given, with dates and conjectured authorship. The appendix contains genealogical tables.

Shakespeare, W. As you like it; introd. and notes by H. Norman Hudson; ed. and rev. by Ebenezer Charlton Black, with the co-operation of Andrew Jackson George. School ed. Bost., Ginn, [1907.] c. '80, '06. 37+152 p. facsim., S. (New Hudson Shakespeare.) cl., 50 c.

"As you like it" is the first issue of the New Hudson Shakespeare; "The merchant of Venice," (see "Weekly Record," April 6, 1907), is the second. The results of the latest research and scholarship are incorporated with the introductions, notes and critical apparatus, which have given the old edition its commanding place. Although the scope and general plan of the work remain as arranged by Dr. Hudson, the revised version has the following distinctive features: a new text, based directly upon that of the First folio; two sets of notes at the foot of the page giving the textual variants and dealing with illustrative comment and brief philological explanation of unusual words and construction; a brief essay on versification and an analysis of the dramatic construction of each play, etc. E. Charlton Black is professor of English literature in Boston University; his assistant belongs to the department of English in the High School, Newton, Mass.

Sheldon, H. Clay. Unbelief in the nineteenth century: a critical history. N. Y., Eaton & Mains, [1907.] c. 8+399 p. O. cl., *$2 net.

Deals with unbelief taken purely in the theoretical or intellectual sense. A compact and accurate exposition of the philosophical theories, the quasi-scientific, theological and ethical theories, and the critical theories of unbelief—meaning divergence from the Christian standpoint. Then follows criticism of the different forms of unbelief from an impersonal objective standpoint. Author is professor in Boston University.

The Mystics were a sect of religious fanatics who believed in the coming of a prophet for whom they had waited fifty years. One of the Arch-Mystics, of whom there were six, disinherited his nephew and left his fortune to the Mystics. The nephew formed the plan to personate the prophet. He did this successfully until a young woman stirred his heart and conscience and made him acknowledge the fraud he had committed. The details of the worship of the Mystics add color to the story.

Madison, Wis., University of Wisconsin, 1906, [1907.] 251-318 p. il. tables, O. (University of Wisconsin, Engineering ser.) pap., 30 c.

An investigation first, of the possibility of preparing the borides and the silicides from their commercially available oxygen compounds by a single reaction of the electric furnace (a process which naturally requires from ten to fifteen days); and second, of the production by means of the electric furnace of a new series of definite chemical compounds, the silico-borides. Paper includes full discussion of the furnace, the source and control of the current, and the behavior of electrodes. Bibliography (5 p.).

Weale, B. L. Putnam, ed. Indiscreet letters from Peking: being the notes of an eyewitness, which set forth in some detail, from day to day, the real story of the siege and sack of a distressed capital in 1900—the year of great tribulation. N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., 1907. c. 7+447 p. front. O. cl., $2 net.

Extracts from letters written from May to October, 1900 by a man who saw everything and took an active part in the siege of Peking in the Boxer uprising. Disconcerting and amazing will be many of the revelations here made. The rivalry of the warring legations, their unpreparedness and panic when there had been ample warning, and the division of counsels among the Chinese, which alone saved every one from death, are shown. False ideas of the position of various Powers in China are dispelled, and a vivid and terrible description is given of the sack of Peking by the European soldiery and a new estimate of Chinese military ability. Book is divided into three parts: The warning, The siege, The sack. The editor of these notes is known as the author of "Manchu and Muscovite" and "The re-shaping of the Far East."

Additional stories of the winsome heroine's life with her aunt in Riverboro. Her "thought book" gives further glimpses of her temperament, character and personality. Characters from "Rebecca of Sunnysbrook Farm" appear again, notably the old stage driver and the little school teacher. We now part from Rebecca at the age of eighteen, reflecting upon the engagement of her dearest friend. She remains the sunny, unselfish maid she was in her former "chronicles."

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

APRIL 13, 1907.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter for advertising pages should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers and librarians depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalog," and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

ADVANCING PRICES.

As foreshadowed a few weeks ago, the retail booksellers in several of the Eastern cities recently came together to discuss the reasonableness of breaking away from the absolute minimum price fixed for fiction, and of raising it high enough to assure to the bookseller, if not a fair profit, then at least a return large enough to encourage him in stocking up and handling this class of books. At a consultation of the trade in one large city a surprisingly full representation of the managers of large department stores was present and, with the representatives of the regular trade, unanimously expressed themselves in favor of better prices for fiction. Year by year proprietors of department stores, prompted no doubt by the increased cost of conducting their business, are insisting upon better profits than the selling of standard goods close at cost, or below cost, permits, and are also deprecating the charging up of more than a legitimate percentage from any one department against the general advertising account. Confronted by this condition the managers of the book departments naturally are beginning to favor better prices for new copyright books, and to depend entirely upon the non-copyright lines for advertising purposes; indeed, the feeling is gaining ground that even upon the better class of books in the competitive lines, prices should be kept firmer than formerly. This may, in a measure, be due to the fact that several manufacturers of these books, compelled by the increased cost of making them, are considering drawing the lines closer as to prices and discounts.

In another large city the trade favored raising the price of fiction to $1.12 and advocated not to cut the price of the forty cent books at all. If this measure is adopted only a few of the larger cities in that section of the country, the large department stores and the trade in the smaller towns have promised their support.

It is gratifying to note that, in all the discussions of the subject, the temper of the trade has been to keep the prices down to the lowest possible point that will allow of a profit, rather than to inflate prices unduly. Indeed, the general feeling of the trade in the larger cities, at any rate, seems to be in favor of a bona-fide dollar work of fiction, if it be possible, with a living discount to the bookseller, rather than in favor of a novel with a fictitious price to be sold at any price from $1.08 up. But this, as it is claimed, for more reasons than one, cannot be hoped for by the trade at present—though one or two publishers have expressed themselves in favor of protecting their fiction at $1.12. The bookseller must therefore deal with the problem as best he may, always keeping in mind that in seeking to better his own condition he must also consider the rights of the public.

Much will depend upon the firm backbone of the individual bookseller and upon his close co-operation and comradeship with his colleagues. Petty differences must be put aside, and, above all, faith must be kept. The trouble in the past has been that envy and jealousy, generally, have prevented a man from crossing the street to confer amicably with his competitor, even if by such an advance the whole problem could be solved so far as his community was concerned. If the local trade could be gotten together to agree loyally on the general principles involved, nine-tenths of the difficulties which now beset their business might be removed. Since it has been proved that booksellers can sell books for a partly adequate profit it should not require many arguments to convince them that the time is ripe to go a little further and to sell books on a really profitable basis, as other merchants sell their stock, or as many of them now sell their side-lines. It will require the example of but a dozen large cities in the East and West to encourage the rest of the country to join in the movement. And then, who knows but that in another twelve months retail booksellers might be discounting their bills and have time to cut off coupons.

THE CRIMMINS AUTOGRAPH COLLECTION.

THE Crimmins collection of autographs sold at Anderson's on the 8th inst. realized upwards of $11,000. The highest price of the sale was $2850 for a set of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, consisting of thirty-six full autograph letters signed, eleven autograph documents signed, five letters simply signed, eight documents signed and two signatures, one of Thomas Lynch, Jr., and one of Burton Gwinnett.

The highest price paid for a single document was $825, for George Washington's plan for attacking the British in New York, three pages, dated "Camp near Dobb's Ferry, July 13, 1781." Three pages and a half of Goethe's original manuscript of "Faust," without his signature, went for $630.

Several of the documents sold figure in the history of the United States, among them being letters of Richard Henry Lee announcing the surrender of General Burgoyne, Richard Montgomery's letter to Sir Guy Carleton demanding the surrender of Quebec, and a letter by General Israel Keith describing the retreat of the Americans after the battle of Long Island. There were also letters of Robert Fulton, Daniel Boone and John Hancock.

The collection included some interesting letters of distinguished Europeans, among them Pope Leo XIII., Gregory XIII., Lord Byron, Gladstone and Meyerbeer.

A group of letters by Thomas Jefferson, in one of which he wrote of the evils of slavery, and setting forth his views on the question of freeing them, brought $230. A letter of William Penn went for $160, and another by Abraham Lincoln sold for $155. The highest price paid for the autograph of a Governor of New York was $115 for that of Peter Stuyvesant, the document, in Dutch, granting a piece of land in the Wallabout, Long Island. Samuel Adams's letter declining a seat in Congress brought $24. Two letters by Robert Burns sold for $265 and $380, respectively.

THE WORK OF THE GERMAN COPYRIGHT OFFICE IN NEW YORK.

ACCORDING to the report of the Official Office for the German Book, Art and Music Publishing Trades in New York, whose duty it is to look after the copyright interests of its members, there were registered during 1906 2886 items, as follows:

Books (printed in the United States)	2
Dramatic works.....	12
Art works.....	76
Music.....	2485
Interim copyrights.....	311
	2886

The total entries in 1905 were 2364. There were 194 publishing houses and authors, among them 36 that were not Germans, who secured copyright through this agency. Only 36 publishers took advantage of the provisions of the interim copyright law, though this should be of special value to the publishers of fiction, short as the time may be.

THE PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

THE annual meeting of the Publishers' Association of Great Britain and Ireland was held at Stationers' Hall, London, on March 25, the president of the Association, Edward Bell, of G. Bell & Sons, in the chair. There were present the principals or their representatives of seventy firms.

According to the annual report the Council has been called upon to confer frequently during the past year.

"The Times Book Club," to quote from the report condensed by the London Publishers' Circular, "it scarcely need be said, is responsible for the greater part of this additional work. At the date of the last report it still seemed possible that this enterprise might be conducted in such a manner as not necessarily to invalidate the conditions of the Net Book Agreement. But the persistent offers of net books at greatly reduced prices led to urgent demonstrations from the retail trade, and resulted in the suggestion that the President and Vice-President should discuss the matter personally with Moberly Bell, who had signed the Net Book Agreement on behalf of the Times. An interview, at which Mr. Hooper and Mr. Keay, the President of the Associated Booksellers, were also present, accordingly took place at Printing House Square early in May, 1906. It was hoped that a friendly understanding between the Times Book Club and the booksellers in reference to the sale of surplus stock would result from this meeting. The proposed arrangement was, however, rejected by the Associated Booksellers.

"About this time the difficulty of the situation was aggravated by advertisements issued by the Times Book Club, offering various recently published books at absurdly low prices. This convinced the Council that there was no real intention on the part of the Times to work in harmony with the trade, and that the only remedy for these evasions of the Net Book Agreement would be the adoption of more precise conditions in reference to the sale of second-hand and surplus stock.

"The views of the Council were endorsed by a general meeting, which was held on July 4, at the requisition of several members of the Association, and a new agreement was drawn up, which, after receiving the approval of the Associated Booksellers, was sent to the manager of the Times, who was informed that his signature would be accepted with the reservation of any contracts by which he might consider himself bound until they could be legally terminated. After some correspondence had passed, the Times rejected this proposal, and at a general meeting in October the Council announced that, in accordance with the terms of the new Net Book Agreement, the Times Book Club could no longer be supplied with net books on trade terms.

"Whilst the Association has had the support of almost the whole of the press and of the Committee of Management of the Society of Authors, there have not been wanting attempts on the part of friendly intermediaries to effect a settlement. The most important of these was made by Mrs. Humphry Ward and a number of literary friends, who secured the co-operation of the late Lord Goschen as Chairman. They formulated certain suggestions directed towards a compromise and sent them simultaneously to the Association and to the Times office. A committee of your Council, which was summoned to deal with them, referred the matter to the Society of Authors, and representatives of that Society met the Council and strongly urged that some attempt should be made to fall in with the proposals. The Council agreed, subject to their action being approved by a general meeting, to shorten the close term for net books by one month, and to make some other modifications in the new Net Book Agreement. The Associated Booksellers concurred with some reluctance in these proposals, but hoped that no further concessions would be made to the Times Book Club. The proposed modus vivendi was, however, rejected by the Times, and Lord Goschen wrote to express his regret that his efforts had failed."

The following officers were re-elected: Edward Bell, president; C. J. Longman, vice-president, and William Heinemann, treasurer. The election of the Council resulted in the following choice: Chapman & Hall, Ltd., Hodder & Stoughton, John Murray, Macmillan & Co., Ltd., George Bell & Sons, Longmans, Green & Co., Smith, Elder & Co., Hutchinson & Co., Wells Gardner, Darton & Co., Ltd., Wm. Blackwood & Sons, Wm. Heinemann, John Lane, and A. & C. Black.

BEST-SELLING BOOKS IN ENGLAND IN MARCH.

THE books that sold best during March in England, according to the London Book Monthly, are:

The New Theology, by the Rev. R. J. Campbell.
The Substance of Faith, by Sir Oliver Lodge.
Besides Still Waters, by A. C. Benson.
Susan, by Ernest Oldmeadow.
Poison Island, by Q.
The Century House, by John Galsworthy.

A TIMES BOOK CLUB PUBLISHING COMPANY.

A MEETING of the Times Book Club, attended by some fifty members, was held on March 26 at the Russell Hotel, London. Sir John Ottley was in the chair, and it was decided that a new publishing company should be formed "for the purpose of publishing books for sale without restriction of price and on the lines advocated by many of the correspondents of the Times."

"From the nature of the speeches," according to the London Publisher and Bookseller, "most of the speakers appeared to realize the difficulties of the scheme, and one of them, a publisher himself, gave a warning as to 'the dangers and pitfalls that attend the publishing business.' This is as well. But why should another speaker refer to the project as a 'fair-trade publishing scheme, to publish without restraint?' What are the restraints? We were under the impression that any member of the community was free to publish what he liked and on what terms he likes. No one would object to the Times Book Club publishing on its own account. The objection has been to its exploiting other people's property in a manner calculated to injure it."

COMMUNICATIONS.

I. & M. OTTENHEIMER EXONERATED BY THE AMERICAN PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION.

AMERICAN PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION,
156 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK, April 8, 1907.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

DEAR SIR: After a careful examination of the books of Messrs. I. & M. Ottenheimer, Baltimore, Md., who were placed on the cut-off list June, 1902, we beg to announce we have become convinced of the fact that the evidence on which our members were requested to discontinue selling copyrighted books to the said firm was insufficient and did not warrant such action on our part.

We make this announcement in reparation for any wrong which the said firm may have suffered by reason of such action, and in consideration of the discontinuance of the suit of I. & M. Ottenheimer against the American Publishers' Association, now pending in the Supreme Court of this State.

We wish to say further that as the former plan of the Association was repealed in January last, there exists no list of persons to whom books are not to be sold by our members, and that therefore formal reinstatement of the firm mentioned is impossible. But had we been in possession of the facts now in hand when the cut-off list was in force we would have taken pleasure in advising our members and the trade that there exists no objection to selling the firm of Messrs. I. & M. Ottenheimer.

Yours very truly,

AMERICAN PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION,
F. C. J. TESSARO, Manager.

LOOK OUT FOR S. H. ARUNDEL-BELL.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

DEAR SIR: During the month of August last one S. H. Arundel-Bell, a smooth Englishman, who is now, or was, in the employ of the Cambridge Corporation, Ltd., of Montreal, Canada, called at our store, representing to us that he was a stockholder in the firms of G. P. Putnam's Sons and Tandy-Wheeler Co., of your city, and through his representations obtained from us, for sale on commission, one thousand dollars' worth of books. He took these books to Butte and for a short time thereafter, after beating various board bills and doing other nefarious things, skipped across the line to Montreal, a fugitive from justice. Before doing so he embezzled of the books we let him have one sale in amount $240, and left the rest in Helena with a board bill, which, with the expenses incurred in getting them back, cost us $86.95 more. S. H. Arundel-Bell is a person about six feet tall, of medium complexion and when here was smooth shaven. He is a very good looking man, has a very insinuating address and is very smooth and affable. He is wanted in the United States for irregularities and misdeeds committed upon other people in Utah and adjoining States. We write this information for the benefit of the trade, as we are reliably informed that he has been plying this vocation in other parts of the country for many years past.

Yours,

SHEPARD BOOK COMPANY.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, April 5, 1907.

A. L. BALL, OR BENNINGS, WANTED.

PUBLISHERS, stationers, and newsdealers are warned against Arthur L. Ball, or Bennings, who may come to them with a magazine circulation scheme, advertising, or an application to sell books, particularly de luxe editions. He calls himself a doctor, and will be likely to work the Y. M. C. A. and Royal Arcanum organizations. He is wanted by the police of Rochester, Syracuse and New York City for forgery and grand larceny. Wire Rochester at once if he shows up.

Height, 5 feet 9 inches; weight, 175 pounds; age, 44; slightly gray moustache, very rapid talker, inveterate cigarette smoker, and every other sentence says, "See what I mean?" Travels with his wife, Edith, a brunette, 125 pounds, good figure, strikingly dressed, and with a very marked English accent; also his daughter Nellie, about seven years old, light brown hair, and very attractive and intelligent.

JOHN S. BRIGGS.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

BOOKTRADE ASSOCIATIONS.

DINNER OF THE AMERICAN BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATION.

THE BANQUET COMMITTEE of the American Booksellers' Association reports that a large attendance is already assured. The committee also reports favorably as to the literary portion of the programme. The following speakers have promised to be present: Bishop Ethelbert Talbot, author of "My People of the Plains;" Gelett Burgess, author of "Are You a Bromide?," "The White Cat," etc.; R. F. Outcault, the creator of "Buster Brown;" F. R. Chapman, author of "Bird Life," etc.; W. F. Hornaday, author of "Camp Fires in the Canadian Rockies," and L. J. Vance, author of "The Brass Bowl." The dinner will be given on May 15 at the Aldine Association. Tickets at $2.50 may be obtained from Charles A. Burkhardt, 31 W. Twenty-third Street, New York; C. E. Butler, at Brentano's, 5 Union Square, New York; at the office of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, or from any member of the committee.

APRIL DINNER OF THE BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE.

THE regular monthly meeting of the Booksellers' League, held at the rooms of the Aldine Association on the evening of April 10, was well attended, and those present were rewarded by hearing most interesting speakers. Dr. William Hanna Thomson, physician to Charity and Roosevelt Hospitals in New York City, author of "Brain and Personality," recently published, discussed the relations of brain, mind and will from the standpoint of his professional experience and study. Mr. W. T. Eldridge, author of "Hilma," followed, and entertained the League with a few anecdotes. The concluding talk was by Mr. Hereward Carrington, member of the American Society for Psychical Research, whose book, "The Physical Phenomena of Spiritualism," will soon be published. After stating his belief in the genuineness of certain psychical phenomena, Mr. Carrington described the methods of fraudulent mediums and gave several demonstrations of their tricks and devices.

In view of the fact that the late Dr. William Henry Drummond, the Canadian writer, had on several occasions been a guest of and speaker before the League, it was voted that the Secretary send resolutions of regret to Dr. Drummond's family. Resolutions of sympathy were also voted in behalf of Robert E. Knowles, the author of "St. Cuthbert's," etc., also an old friend and entertainer of the League's, who was recently seriously injured in a railway accident in Ontario.

APRIL BOOST CLUB DINNER.

THE April dinner of the Boost Club will be given at the Aldine Association, Monday Evening, April 15. The list of speakers is not yet complete, consequently no names are mentioned, but the committee gives assurance that it will be the best list yet.

Those who have enjoyed the gatherings at the Aldine Association in the past will be pleased to learn that the club is going back to the Association for this dinner. The conveniences and comforts of the Association are so obvious that the return to it will be welcomed by those who attend the monthly dinners.

MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATION OF THE EMPLOYEES OF AMERICAN NEWS CO.

THE Mutual Benefit Association of the Employees of the American News Company and its branches gave its third annual entertainment on the evening of April 6, at the Yorkville Casino, on East Eighty-sixth Street, near Third Avenue, New York City.

The programme, under the direction of David H. Keith, consisted of the following pieces: (1) Overture, Red Mill, by Van Baar's Old Guard Orchestra; (2) Lucille Bradshaw & Co., in a farcical sketch; (3) Harry Thompson, a monologue comedian; (4) McKissick & Shadney, Ethiopian entertainers, in songs, witticisms and dancing; (5) Wm. La Belle, a comedy juggler; (6) Cecelia Weston, comedienne and imitations of Broadway celebrities; and (7) Gorman & West, comedy skit, entitled "A Special Meeting." The entertainment was heartily applauded, as it deserved to be. The various committees merit special praise for the efficient manner in which every detail was looked after. After the vaudeville there was dancing till the "sma' hours."

The officers of the Association are: John Downes, president; Harry Donnelly, vice-president; A. P. Falvey, recording secretary; John Gillis, financial secretary; J. H. Farrell, treasurer, and A. E. Greig, sergeant-at-arms.

PITTSBURGH BOOKSELLERS' AND STATIONERS' ASSOCIATION.

THE Pittsburgh Booksellers and Stationers held their regular quarterly meeting on Monday evening, April 8, one day earlier in the week than usual on account of its being the seventy-sixth birthday anniversary of Robert S. Davis, the oldest bookseller and stationer in Pittsburgh.

The meeting was preceded by a splendid dinner eaten at the "Bank Café," where Mr. Davis responded in his usual happy manner to the pleasant congratulations and sincere good wishes of the other members.

The meeting was called to order by President Harry F. Davis, and was characterized by the hearty enthusiasm which invariably marks the gatherings of the Pittsburgh Association when it assembles for the purpose of "boosting" prices. On such occasions they always follow the advice of Lee Mason to "mark them high enough while you are about it."

Several new firms were admitted after the usual conservative investigating process.

The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in considering methods for improving business and profits to correspond with the increased cost of rents, salaries, and other necessary expenses.

C. H. CLOUGH, Acting Secretary.

OBITUARY NOTES.

JAMES DAVIS, better known by his pen name, "Owen Hall," the author of "Florodora," "The Geisha," "The Girl from Kay's," etc., died in London on April 10.

THE death in his forty-first year is announced from Vienna of Arthur L. Jelinek, the author of a number of useful bibliographical works. The "Internationale Bibliographie der Kunstwissenschaft," begun in 1902, "Bibliographie der vergleichenden Literaturgeschichte," "Goethe Bibliographie," and others owe their existence to him. He was a Hungarian, born in Mähren on December 21, 1876.

GEORGE GRENVILLE BENEDICT, editor-in-chief of the Burlington (Vt.) Free Press, died on the 8th inst. at Camden, N. C. Mr. Benedict was born in Burlington, Vt., December 10, 1826. In 1853 he and his father, George W. Benedict, became identified with the Free Press. He filled several public offices—State Senator, 1869 to 1871; collector of customs, 1889 to 1893; twice as postmaster—and was secretary of the University of Vermont from 1865 up to within a short time ago. He was also the author of several books connected with historical subjects, among which may be mentioned "Vermont in the Civil War," "Army Life in Virginia," and a Bibliography of Vermont, published by the State.

JOHN W. TILLINGHAST, for upwards of thirty years connected with the Rhode Island News Company, died on the 6th inst., at his home on Lloyd Avenue, Providence, R. I. While Mr. Tillinghast's health had not been good for some time, so that he was obliged last December to withdraw from work altogether, yet his death was quite unexpected, and came as a shock to all of his friends and acquaintances. Mr. Tillinghast was born in Exeter, R. I., December 3, 1831, his parents removing to Providence six years later, and to North Kingstown in 1840. After his schooling was finished Tillinghast returned to Providence in 1847 to learn the jeweller's trade—which he followed for ten years. In 1858 he entered the employ of N. Bangs Williams, who then had a large book and stationery store—the largest in Rhode Island—at 113 and 115 Westminster Street, where the Providence Banking Company now is. In 1864 Tillinghast and William H. Mason formed the firm of Tillinghast & Mason, who bought out the interest of Mr. Williams in the firm of N. Bangs Williams & Co. Some time later the firm name was changed to the Tillinghast & Mason News Company, and, in the seventies, when Mr. Mason died and the American News Company took over the business, its name was changed to the Rhode Island News Company. Mr. Tillinghast was one of the best-known citizens of Providence. He was at different times a member of the City Government and of the General Assembly, and was prominently identified with the old volunteer fire department. He was a companionable man and leaves a host of friends who sincerely mourn his death.

DR. WILLIAM HENRY DRUMMOND, the well-known Canadian writer of dialect verse, died on April 6, at Cobalt, in Northern Ontario. He left his home in Montreal a few days before to treat some cases of smallpox that threatened to become an epidemic at Cobalt in the Drummond Mines, Ltd., in which his brothers were interested. Although apparently in excellent health—he had returned home only a week before from a trip to Jamaica—he suffered a paralytic stroke soon after his arrival, due very likely to over exertion, and died two days after the first indication of illness. Dr. Drummond was born in Ireland in 1854, but went to the Province of Quebec while still a young boy. He was educated at the English High School and at McGill University in Montreal. He then studied medicine in Bishop's College, Lennoxville. After graduation in 1884 he began the practice of his profession in a village of mixed population, including French and English-speaking voyageurs, Indians, half-breeds, and French-Scotch-Irish-Canadians. In the intimate relationship of physician to these people he acquired the remarkable facility in the use of dialect which he was to use so effectively in his verse, though his verses are not more notable for their dialect than they are for the poetry and tenderness and fire of the narrative. In later life Dr. Drummond established himself in Montreal, and became professor of medical jurisprudence in Bishop's University. Within the past few years he lectured frequently in Canada and in this country. The members of the Booksellers' League and of the American Booksellers' Association will remember two of his entertainments generously donated "for the good of the cause." In his mastery of dialect verse Drummond was among the foremost Canadian writers of his time. "The Habitant's Jubilee Ode," written for the Diamond Jubilee, became extremely popular, and is probably his best-known work. Among other favorite verses are "The Papineau Gun," "Johnnie Courteau," "The Habitant," "Rum's Canoe," "The Wreck of the Julie Plante," and the "Voyageur." Dr. Drummond was an enthusiastic sportsman and athlete.

THE REV. DR. MALCOLM MACCOLL, Canon of Ripon Cathedral, England, died April 5. Dr. Maccoll was born March 27, 1838, at Glenfinan, in Inverness-shire, Scotland, and was educated at Edinburgh and Trinity College, Glenalmond. On taking holy orders he went to London, where he filled various curacies, and in 1862 was appointed chaplain to the British Ambassador at the Court of Russia. He returned to England in 1867 and then went to Italy. In 1871 he returned to London, where he became collated to the rectory of St. George's, and in 1884 he was appointed a canon residentiary of Ripon. Always an admirer and an enthusiastic supporter of Mr. Gladstone and his policies, he wrote, over the pen name "Scrutator" a polemical treatise, entitled "Mr. Gladstone and Oxford," in 1865. Three years later he published a pamphlet entitled "Is There Not a Cause?" on the subject of disestablishment in Ireland. A man with strong convictions on many subjects, Dr. Maccoll was ever ready to rush into print with his earnest and often pugnaciously expressed opinions. He wrote pamphlets and books on such varied topics as "Science and Prayer," "The Oberammergau Passion Play," "Who is Responsible for the (Franco-German) War?" "The Damnable Clauses of the Athanasian Creed Rationally Explained," "Reasons for Home Rule," "Lawlessness, Sacerdotalism and Ritualism," "The Education Question and the Liberal Party" and "Life Here and Hereafter." In the field of foreign politics Canon Maccoll made a special study of Mahometanism as a theocratic system of government inconsistent, he contended, with civilization and fatal to the moral and intellectual development of any people who embrace it. He wrote frequently and voluminously on the subject, reinforcing his academically formed opinions by his own observations in Mahometan lands. He was an active agitator in behalf of the oppressed Armenians, endeavoring to arouse popular indignation in England against the Sultan. Among his published works relating to this topic were "The Eastern Question: Its Facts and Fallacies," "Three Years of the Eastern Question," "England's Responsibility Toward Armenia" and "The Sultan and the Powers."

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

ALGERNON CHARLES SWINBURNE, who on April 5 celebrated his seventieth birthday, is at work on a drama centering about Cæsar Borgia.

THE REV. BENJAMIN C. WARREN, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church at Washington Avenue and 160th Street, New York, appeared before the New York Conference of the Methodist Church on April 3 and apologized for having written a novel, "In the Land of Romberg," in which he is alleged to have drawn some of the characters too closely to the lives of Methodist clergymen of his acquaintance.

So uncompromisingly aggressive is John Armstrong Chanler reported to be in his book, "Four Years Behind the Bars of Bloomingdale, or, the Bankruptcy of Law in New York," that the Richmond dealers are afraid to handle it. A lawyer waited on some of them and notified them that the house which put the volume on sale would be liable to an action for libel. The author said: "If the book cannot be obtained I'll send it by mail if I can, and if not by mail, then by express. Should these two mediums fail, then I'll send it either by balloon or ox cart. By nature I am peaceable and good-natured, but I propose to make it hot for some people, and I am not done yet."

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

THE Internationale Institut für Sozial-Bibliographie in Berlin, founded about eighteen months ago, has just published its year-book. Among other items of interest it gives the statistics of literary production in the field of social science. In the 14 countries which the report covers there appeared 19,438 works, of which 8,590 were books and 10,848 were pamphlets and reprints of speeches. The chief part of this enormous literary production is in the field of political sociology, covering 6,134 works; this is followed by practical national economy with 3,830 works; politics with 1,747 works, and theoretical national economy with 1,672 works. In these statistics popular social literature is not taken into consideration. Separating this production of social literature by languages, it is notable that 9,455 works, in round numbers about 50 per cent. of the social literature of the world, appears in the German language; French follow with 3,489 works; English with 3,193; Dutch with 783; Russian with 699; Italian with 656; Scandinavian with 519; Hungarian with 333; Polish with 130; Spanish with 68, etc. The Institut publishes the titles of these 20,000 works (in round numbers) in its year-book, and divides them under 72 headings. In its monthly bulletin, Kritische Blätter für die Gesamten Sozialwissenschaften, edited by Dr. Herman Beck, current literature of the year also appears similarly classified and annotated. The work of compilation is accomplished by the aid of a staff of scholars in all countries, assisted by the great book-selling firms and bookselling organizations. The collaboration of authors is also enlisted, and they are requested to send to the Institut a bibliographical note or an abstract of their works before publication.

THE first two volumes are now ready of the "Classified Catalogue of the Carnegie Library,"* and the third volume, containing the author and title index, will shortly follow. When it was planned in 1902 to issue in book form a classified catalogue based on the card catalogue in use in the library, the collection numbered 145,000 volumes. The subsequent additions will form a series of supplementary catalogues. The first of these, in two volumes, is already well in type, and will soon follow the "Classified Catalogue." These five volumes combined will make a complete catalogue to January 1, 1907, and cover the 242,000 volumes to which the library has grown.

The complete remodelling of the main structure originally erected for the Carnegie Library in 1895, together with the building of large additions thereto, brought about conditions that have greatly retarded the preparation and issues of this classified catalogue. Not only the processes of cataloguing and proof-reading, but also all those of composition, presswork and binding have been accomplished without the employment of other agencies than the library's own facilities within its central library building, and have been carried on continuously during the course of the reconstruction and enlargement mentioned above. The work has naturally been retarded. To offset the inconvenient delay for the public, the classes or parts of the catalogue as they came from the press have been issued in pamphlet form, and may be bound up into complete volumes by those possessing all the parts.

The general arrangement of the classified catalogue is in agreement with the divisions of the Decimal Classification, now in rather common use in the United States, of which a brief synopsis is given in the first volume. Individual biographies, however, are arranged in one alphabet and filed under the head of the subject. Likewise books on history and on travel and description, although assigned numbers in accordance with the regular classification, are arranged in a special way by being placed together under the name of the country treated. The full author and subject indexes added make the work available even for those not initiated into the at first sight rather intricate mysteries of Decimal Classification.

It was not the intention to make a bibliography, therefore many details commonly inserted even in library catalogues were omitted, the object being to make a simple catalogue for public use as a finding list.

The inception of the work and the credit of a large share of it belongs to Edwin H. Anderson, former librarian, who saw through the press the first four parts of the catalogue. Miss Margaret Mann and a most competent and enthusiastic staff have carried the work to its completion. The Board of Trustees has also been most generous in its support of the great undertaking. The catalogue will be of use in any library, for the selection of books is good and they are classified in not too arbitrary a manner.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

CASS RICHARDSON, of E. P. Dutton & Co., sailed for England on the 10th inst. by the Baltic. Mr. Richardson has hosts of friends at home who wish him good luck on his trip.

THE copyright of "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland," by Lewis Carroll, will expire in November of this year, but the copyright of the illustrations by Sir John Tenniel will, however, continue for some years to come.

THE CENTURY COMPANY will publish on April 24 Jean Webster's "Jerry Junior," a jolly tale of Americans in Italy, and Luther Burbank's treatise on "The Training of the Human Plant," a portion of which appeared in the May Century.

L. C. PAGE & COMPANY will publish about April 20 Morley Roberts's new book, "The Flying Cloud," a prose epic of the sea said to resemble the old Norse sagas in its elemental quality. Mr. Roberts will be remembered as the author of "The Promotion of the Admiral," "Lady Penelope," "Rachel Warr," and "The Idlers."

MISS EDITH DIEHL, at her bindery, 111 East Twenty-third Street, New York City, is showing a number of fine specimens of bibliopegic art, notable among which are some books bound partly in heavy oak boards like those of the seventeenth century—one of Miss Diehl's specialties. Miss Diehl studied with Douglas Cockerell, of England, and Jules Domont, of France.

CASSELL & COMPANY, Ltd., will publish on the 19th inst. Dr. C. W. Saleeby's new work on "Worry, the Disease of the Age," in which the author demonstrates the futility of worry and its relations to disease, work and the religious life. He shows the affinity between worry and physical disease, and deals with the evil effects of drugs, drink and the abuse of hypnotics and narcotics.

READERS of Arthur Stringer's new novel, "Phantom Wires," may be somewhat puzzled at the enigmatic "30" which occupies the position on his last page usually reserved for the time-honored "Finis." But this device of "30," as all telegraphers will know, is the key-operator's long-recognized and commonly used farewell, or "Goodnight," and is more or less appropriate to a novel so impregnated with the lore of electricity.

THE material concerning Jay Cooke, personal letters and miscellaneous papers, which Dr. Ellis P. Oberholtzer used in the preparation of his serial now running in The Century Magazine, and his "Life of Jay Cooke," to be published shortly by George W. Jacobs & Co., are to be given by the Cooke family to the Library of the Pennsylvania Historical Society. The library gains thereby a unique and historically important collection.

GEORGE W. JACOBS & Co. wish to rectify the misunderstanding which has arisen in some cases in connection with their exclusive trade agency for "Beautiful Joe" and "Dickey Downy." While they will be the only publishing house to supply these books to the trade in general, dealers residing in any city where a branch of the American Baptist Publication Society is situated, may procure these books from the branch, if they so desire.

THE JOHN C. WINSTON COMPANY, Philadelphia, have recently published "A Trip to the Orient," by Robert Urie Jacob, a book whose unique feature is illustration by means of nearly 200 snapshots, many of which can never be duplicated, of not only the historic places and ruins throughout oriental lands, but also of the people in their varied activities. The work is of primary interest to those who have made such a trip, but it is designed to be of value to those who either plan a similar one or who read for entertainment or knowledge.

HENRY HOLT & Co. have just brought out "Faust, Part I," edited with an introduction and notes by Professor Julius Goebel, lecturer on Germanic Philology in Harvard University. The appearance of this edition is particularly timely in view of the approaching centenary of the first publication of the drama. "Faust" and "Peer Gynt" are probably the two longest standard dramas in existence. When Mr. Conried gave "Faust" at his German Theatre in New York a season or two ago, though he gave only the first part, he had to divide that between two evenings.

FORBES & COMPANY, Chicago, will publish at once a book by Professor Frederick Starr, the noted anthropologist, to be entitled "The Truth About the Congo." Professor Starr recently returned from a tour extending over a year in the Congo Free State, during which he visited twenty-eight different tribes and travelled over 7000 miles within the limits of that country. In the forthcoming book are given his observations on social and political conditions as he found them in the Congo, observations untrammelled by any influence or conditions, as Professor Starr's expedition was entirely independent of any institution or society.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. are about to publish "George Crabbe and His Times, 1754-1832," a critical biographical study by René Huchon; "The Nemesis of Nations," studies in ancient world history by W. Romaine Paterson, ("Benjamin Swift;") "The Human Element in the Gospels," a commentary on the synoptic narrative, by Dr. George Salmon, late Provost of Trinity College Dublin; "A Summary of the Literature of Modern Europe," from the origins to 1400, by Marian Edwardes; also, a new edition of "Catherine of Calais," by Mrs. Henry de la Pasture. They are preparing for immediate publication new and cheaper editions of A. C. Benson's "The House of Quiet" and "The Thread of Gold." They have just ready "The Story of Port Royal," by Mrs. Ethel Romanes.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. are adding this month thirteen new titles to their list of popular cloth-bound editions of recent copyrighted fiction, as follows: "Curly: a Tale of the Arizona Desert," by Roger Pocock; "The Rainbow Chasers," by John H. Whitson; "Justin Wingate, Ranchman," by John H. Whitson; "A Knot of Blue," by William R. A. Wilson; "The Head of a Hundred," by Maud Wilder Goodwin; "Sir Christopher," by Maud Wilder Goodwin; "The Weird Picture," by John R. Carling; "A Prince of Lovers," by Sir William Magnay; "Sweet Peggy," by Linnie Sarah Harris; "Journeys with Dumas," translated by Katherine Prescott Wormeley; "File No. 113," by Emile Gaboriau; "My Lady Clancarty," by Mary Imlay Taylor; and "Where the Tide Comes In," by Lucy M. Thruston.

JOHN LANE COMPANY, who have removed to their new quarters, 110-114 West Thirty-second Street, New York City, publish this week "The Life of Lord Chesterfield," by W. H. Craig, with 28 full-page illustrations from portraits, etc. In distinction from previous biographies which have treated more particularly of Lord Chesterfield's wit, his savoir faire, his peculiar system of practical ethics, this book brings into proper perspective those rarer qualities which made him a valuable public servant, to whose ability, zeal, energy, political foresight, incorruptibility and dexterity the world is more indebted than it appears as yet to recognize. They have also just ready "The Stable Handbook," by F. H. Dale, a guide to the proper selection, care and treatment of horses. The book is addressed to the man of moderate means and is illustrated with typical examples of representative horse flesh, together with useful diagrams showing the parts of the foot, legs and teeth.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY will publish in the near future three books on hygiene by William H. Allen, general agent of the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor. One of these, to be entitled "Health and Efficiency," is intended for use in teachers' reading circles, and as a handbook for teachers in teaching hygiene in the class-room. The second book, "The Magna Charta of Health," is a text-book on hygiene from the common-sense, everyday point of view, and is adapted for use in the last two grades of the grammar school and the first year of the high school. A third book, "Little Journeys to Health Land," is an elementary, supplementary reader on hygienic subjects, for use in the lower grades of grammar schools. It is expected that these books will be illustrated. They also announce for early publication "The Reform Movement in Judaism," by Dr. David Philipson, a rabbi of Cincinnati and a writer well known to the Jews of this country; also, a life of Shakespeare, in the English Men of Letters series, by Professor Walter Raleigh, of Oxford University.

J. PIERPONT MORGAN has been instrumental in solving a puzzle which has baffled students of thirteenth century illumination for many years. It has not been known hitherto by whose order the wonderfully elaborate "Bible Moralisée" was decorated. Only one copy is known, and that is divided into three parts, of which the Bodleian Library, the Bibliothèque Nationale and the British Museum each possesses one. It contains no less than 5000 medallions, each said to be a veritable artistic model. A portion of the manuscript explaining the origin of the work was lost and has been sought for by Leopold Delisle, the former director of the Bibliothèque Nationale, for upwards of twenty-five years, and was finally traced to Mr. Morgan's collection. That gentleman has loaned his page to the Académie des Inscriptions et Belles-Lettres. It is magnificently illuminated, with a blue and gold foundation, and portrays the king and queen of France, under whose auspices the work was done—the king apparently St. Louis, and the queen either his mother, Blanche de Castille, or his wife, Marguerite de Provence. The painting appears to have been done by miniaturists of Paris or monks of the neighboring monasteries.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS have just published "The Development of Western Civilization," by J. Dorsey Forrest, an examination of the social forces at present acting in Europe. They are about to publish Camillo von Klenze's book, "The Interpretation of Italy During the Last Two Centuries, a Contribution to Goethe's 'Italienische Reise,'" an investigation of the attitude of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries toward Italy undertaken with a view of ascertaining the accuracy of Goethe's views as expressed in his work. These publications will be followed during the spring by "Christianity and Its Bible," by Henry F. Waring, a sketch of the origin of the Old Testament religion, a history of the Christian church and a view of present day Christianity; "Dramatic Traditions of the Dark Ages," by Joseph S. Tunison, tracing the connections between the late classical drama of Seneca and the late Middle Ages, taking in the Byzantine times; "The Role of the Maleiroi in the Life of the Ancient Greeks," by Edwin Moore Rankin, a monograph on the cook as a dramatic figure in new Attic comedy; and "The General Civil and Military Administration of Noricum and Raetia," by Mary Bradford Peaks, of Vassar College, a consideration of the contrasts shown by these adjoining Roman provinces.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY have just brought out "The Wooing of Tokala," by Franklin Welles Calkins, a tale of the Indian life as it is to-day, enriched with the intimate knowledge which long residence in the Tepee village have given to the author. They will bring out shortly the first four volumes of Dr. G. Campbell Morgan's series of "The Bible Analyzed," work on which was delayed owing to Dr. Morgan's ill health. Robert E. Knowles's novel, "The Web of Time," will not be brought out this year, the author having been seriously injured in a railway accident in Ontario a short time ago. Dr. Wilfred Grenfell is about to return to New York after a rather extended lecturing tour in which he has succeeded in interesting many people in his wards, the fisher folk of Labrador. He has received funds to provide for the importation of a herd of fifty reindeer into Labrador, from which he expects as great economic results as they produced in Alaska. His projected work on "Labrador" has assumed such proportions that it will probably run into two volumes by the date of publication. The manuscript of Arthur H. Smith's new book, "America and China," has just reached the Revells from Shanghai. The volume attempts to discover America's opportunities, advantages and disadvantages and responsibilities in the new era now dawning in China.

THE H. M. CALDWELL CO. announce for early publication "My Graduation," a memory book for the school or college girl designed by the Boston artist, Miss Marion L. Peabody, which includes space for outdoor sports, theatre and "auto" parties, receptions and various social activities, as well as for matters more intimately connected with the school or college life; also, "The Commuter's Garden Record," written and illustrated by Amy Carol Rand, a volume in which may be recorded one's doings in the flower garden, successes, failures and conclusions, containing planting tables and suggestions as to the culture of about seventy-five of the old garden favorites, for both amateur and professional. An addition to the Value Gift Book Series soon to be brought out is Mary M. Barrows's compilation, "The Value of Sincerity and Character," prose and verse from various sources, one of the more prominent authors represented being Thomas Wentworth Higginson. They also announce for spring publication a new edition of "Woman and Her Wits," containing an introduction by Charles Welsh and considerable new material; "Walking, a Fine Art," by Edward F. Bigelow, a companion book to "The Royalty of Friendship," etc., a collection of selections on the healthful exercise, in dainty gift-book style; "The Stork Book," by Newton Newkirk, who is an authority on the humorous side of babies and baby culture in that he has occupied the unique position of a baby himself, the book being illustrated by Wallace Goldsmith; and four additions to the Red Letter Library, which now totals forty-four volumes of prose and verse: Poems by Christina Rossetti, with an introduction by Alice Meynell; Poems by Robert Burns, with an introduction by Neil Munro; Poems by Matthew Arnold, with an introduction by Alice Meynell; and "Walden," by H. D. Thoreau, the introduction by Richard Whiteing.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. will bring out on the 15th inst. Kate Douglas Wiggin's new book, "New Chronicles of Rebecca," the first edition of which is 50,000 copies. As already noted, Rebecca's old friends figure largely in these episodes of her life in Riverboro, and the story is full of the native wit and wholesome charm of untrammelled American girlhood. They will have ready at the same time the Centennial edition of Longfellow's "Hanging of the Crane," with illustrations by Arthur I. Keller, limited to 1000 copies; "Life and Letters of Charles Russell Lowell," by Edward Waldo Emerson, who presents the story of the varied career in peace and war of a brilliant son of Massachusetts—the nephew of James Russell Lowell—who won great dis-tion as a cavalry commander in the war between the States; "German Ideals of Today, and Other Essays on German Culture," by Professor Kuno Francke, of Harvard, a group of essays that have appeared in The Atlantic, The Nation and International Quarterly, which bear directly on one or another phase of the ideals and culture of Germany revealed by its literature and life; "Three Phi Beta Kappa Addresses," by Charles Francis Adams, two of the addresses constituting an arraignment in important respects of the American collegiate system now in use, especially at Harvard, and the third urging the claims of Robert E. Lee for grateful recognition by the American people, North as well as South, to which three other papers are added, all arising out of Mr. Adams's twenty-four years' experience on the Board of Overseers of Harvard University; a new edition of "The May-Flower and Her Log," enlarged and revised; also, "A Practical Guide for Authors," by William Stone Booth, which deals concisely with the relations between author and publisher, offering practical advice on such subjects as preparing manuscripts, offering manuscripts to publishers, advance royalties, copyright, serial rights, etc.

AUCTION SALES.

MESSRS. SOTHEY will sell during May one of the finest known copies of the First Folio Shakespeare in private hands. It is only a trifle shorter than the Locker-Lampson copy, which in the Van Antwerp sale fetched £3600. The copy in question forms No. XIX. in Mr. Lee's "Census." It was purchased apparently about 1660 by Colonel John Lane, of Bentley Hall, Staffordshire, Charles II.'s protector, and remained in the family until the sale of the Lane library in April, 1856, when it was purchased by the third Earl of Gosford for 157 guineas. The fourth Earl sold it to James Toovey, the bookseller, in 1884, for £470. The fly-leaf and title are mounted, and two leaves are repaired. It is in a choice red morocco binding by Roger Payne. At the same time copies of the three other folios will be sold—that of the Third Folio being the Langham copy, with the additional title (1663), which sold for £435 in July, 1894.

APRIL 15, 3 P.M.—Miscellaneous, including fine sets of standard authors, limited editions de luxe, scarce illustrated books, Americana, etc. (346 lots.)—Anderson.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print of five nonpareil lines, exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small undisplayed advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their Communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm name the word [Cash.]

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet, only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," book-sellers should take the usual precautions, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

Bibliographical Helps

ISSUED FROM

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY OFFICE

The Publishers' Weekly

Recognized as the representative of the publishing and bookselling interests in the United States. Contains full weekly record of American publications, with monthly indexes, cumulated quarterly, news of interest concerning the book trade, lists of "Books Wanted," (an advertising feature which each subscriber can use without charge to the extent of 100 lines per year,) etc., etc. Subscription, $4.00 a year; to foreign countries, $5.00 a year.

The American Catalog, 1900-1905

Vol. I contains a five-year cumulation, Jan. 1, 1900-Jan. 1, 1905, giving in one alphabet, by author, title and subject, information of the books issued during the years covered by this period. It also contains a directory of over 3800 publishers, with street addresses. 8vo, half morocco, $7.50.

Vol. II or Supplementary volume gives the full-title entries with annotations printed in the Weekly Record of The Publishers' Weekly, cumulated into an alphabet for each year, i.e., into five alphabets 1900, 01, 02, 03, 04. This is planned to answer the demand of such libraries, bookdealers, and others as want the full material of The Publishers' Weekly bibliographical system in available shape. 8vo, half morocco, $7.50. The set of two, $12.

Of the previous series of THE AMERICAN CATALOGUE, quarto size, the earlier volumes are out of print. We have remaining a few copies of the volumes 1890-95 and 1895-1900, bound in half morocco, $15.00 each.

The Annual American Catalog

Contains in one alphabet a record of all books published during 1905, under author, title, subject and series entries; also under author's name an alphabetical list of the same titles with descriptive annotations from The Publishers' Weekly, etc. 8vo, cloth, $3.00.

Same catalog for 1906 will be ready early in March.

The Publishers' Trade List Annual

Contains the latest catalogues of upward of 200 American publishers, contributed by themselves and arranged alphabetically by the firm-names, with smaller lists, fully indexed, at the end of the volume. Indispensable to every one who has any interest in the sale or purchase of books. Large 8vo, cloth, $2.00.

Index to the Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1902, out of print.

The Supplementary Index, 1903-1904, 500 pages, 8vo, cloth, with thumb index, $3.00. The alphabet in this volume is supplementary to the original Index of 1902.

The American Educational List

Contains a price-list of the text-books in use in the United States, arranged alphabetically by author's or editor's name, and a detailed subject-index, referring from each specific subject to authors of books on that subject. (Published annually.) 8vo, leatherette, 50 cents.

Whitaker's Reference Catalogue of Current Literature, 1906. (London, J. Whitaker & Sons.)

(The trade price-lists of all the British publishers.) 2 vols., half leather binding, $5.00.

The Library Journal

Official Organ of the American Library Association. Chiefly devoted to library economy and bibliography. Established in 1876. Published monthly. Subscription $4.00 a year, postpaid; single numbers, 35 cents. Price to Europe or other countries in the Union, 16s. a year; single numbers, 1s. 6d.

The Library Index to Periodicals and Current Events

Published monthly, with a quarterly cumulation (indexing the periodicals taken in most libraries, large and small). Subscription, $3.00 per year. Single monthly numbers, 25 cents; quarterly numbers, 50 cents each.

The Annual Library Index

Including Periodicals, American and English; Essays, Book-Chapters, etc., Bibliographies, Necrology and Index to Dates of Principal Events. Edited, with the co-operation of members of the American Library Association and of The Library Journal staff, by W. I. FLETCHER and H. E. HAINES. (Published annually) 8vo, cloth, $3.50.

English Catalogue of Books (Annual)

Containing a complete list of all the books published in Great Britain and Ireland in the calendar year, with index to subjects. 8vo, cloth, $1.50.

English Catalogue of Books, 1901-1905

The record of these five years in one continuous alphabet. (Seventh volume of series.) 8vo, half morocco, $20.00.

Directory of Publishers

Contains names and addresses of 3876 firms and individuals who issued books in the U. S. from Jan. 1, 1900 to Jan. 1, 1905. (Reprinted from The American Catalog.) 8vo, leatherette, red edges, $1.00.

The Profession of Bookselling

A handbook of practical hints for the apprentice and bookseller. By A. GROWELL, managing editor of The Publishers' Weekly, author of "A Bookseller's Library." "Three Centuries of English Booktrade Bibliography," etc. Parts 1 and 2. 8vo boards, each $2.00. (Concluding part in preparation.)

Publications of Societies

A provisional list of the publications of American scientific, literary and other societies, from their organization. Compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. BOWKER. Schedules nearly 1,000 societies issuing publications, and gives title-entries of all their publications, as far as data could be obtained from the societies and from libraries. 8vo, paper, $2.50.

State Publications

A provisional list of the official publications of the several States of the United States from their organization. Compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. BOWKER. Part 1: New England States. Part 2: North Central States. Part 3: Western States and Territories. Part 4, (in preparation) Southern States. (For the complete work $10.)

FOUR ADMIRABLE NOVELS

THE GOLDEN HAWK

By EDITH RICKERT, author of "The Reaper" and "Folly."

With six beautiful Illustrations by W. T. BENDA. $1.50.

A story of Provence, filled with the joy of living and the fragrance of Southern France. The hero, Trillon, the "Golden Hawk" of the romance, flies straight to the heart of his love, and wins her, by a strange wooing, in spite of parental and religious opposition.

"A tale of young love, passionate and glowing."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"Should be missed by no reader with a taste for pure romance."—Tribune (London).

"It has atmosphere, buoyancy and spirit."—Liverpool Daily Courier.

"A light, bright, syllabub of a story—a joy to read."—Daily Chronicle.

"An amusing story full of gay romance."—Manchester Courier.

"The Golden Hawk may be read and will be read with sheer pleasure in the exuberance of life."—Newcastle Chronicle.

DIMBIE AND I

By MABEL BARNES-GRUNDY, author of "Hazel of Heatherland."

Six Illustrations by OTTO LANG. $1.50

A tale of English country life, notable for its exquisite feeling, its real pathos, and its scintillating humor.

"A rare woman's soul is graciously revealed to us in Mabel Barnes-Grundy's little love story 'Dimbie and I,' and the wistfulness of it creeps very close to the heart. . . . It has an abundance of humorous situations which ring often enough the bells of gayety."—Chicago Evening Post.

THE SOWING OF ALDERSON CREE

By MARGARET PRESCOTT MONTAGUE
author of "The Poet, Miss Kate, and I."

Frontispiece in Color by BENDA. $1.50

From the life stories of the West Virginia mountaineers Miss Montague has evolved a novel of rare charm and strong dramatic force. In this tale of a bitter feud, the rugged outlines of the narrative are softened by a love story of exceptional grace.

THE CASE OF DOCTOR HORACE

By JOHN H. PRENTIS

Frontispiece by CRAMPTON. $1.25

A novel detective story, involving a most unusual crime, a clever detective, a thrilling chase, and a startling finale. In originality of plot, sustained interest, and distinction of style, Mr. Prentis has set a new standard in literature of this type.

[Second large printing now ready.]
